Perfect weather
For sweet candy treats.
Pumpkins on porches,
Bobbing for apples,
Mounds of sweets.
NOM NOM NOM!
My tummy is aching.
Ouch, ouch, ouch!
Maybe I should not have eaten
that much candy.
WOOOPS!

Haunted House

By Florence de Beaufort

I think there's something moving over by that chair,
 But when I take a closer look, there's really nothing there.
 Oh! What's over there that gave me such a fright?
 I hate being home alone, especially at night.
 Now there's something creaking, it's the bedroom door.
 I really don't like this house. I'm not staying anymore.
 I'm really nervous, I see things that scare me the most.
 I shouldn't be so frightened, there's no such thing as ghosts.
 Oh, wait, it's just the cat!

Puffy's Halloween

By Naomi Cannon and Helen DiClerico

Once upon a time, there was a ghost named Puffy. Puffy lived in a world without color. When Halloween came, Puffy wanted color on his Halloween decorations. He went to the paint store to get paint to paint his decorations, but the paint was only black and white. Then, he had an idea! Puffy went into the forest and found some colorful berries. He used the berries to make paint. He had colorful decorations and a happy Halloween!

Costume Shopping

By Evelyn Murchie

Lucille, the cat, was very excited for Halloween. She had a new jack-o-lantern. Her witch was going to take her trick-or-treating with her friend, Eloise the bat. She was going to help her witch make treats to put in a basket outside of the mansion. But there was one problem: she did not have a costume. All her other friends were already spooky, so they just wore fun clothing. Even though cats can be spooky things, she is not a black cat. She is a calico cat. The worst part was everybody was talking about what they would wear for Halloween. What would she wear for Halloween?

When Lucille got home, she told her witch about her problem. Her witch said they could go costume shopping tomorrow. She could not wait! When they went costume shopping, she could not find anything that was scary enough. But then her witch came out with a costume of a PRINCESS!!!!

"What about this one?" She asks.

Lucille liked it, but she was nervous that she would stand out from the others. Her witch said, "You do not need to be scary just because your friends are being scary. Wouldn't it be nice to get attention for this great costume?"

This set Lucille's mind to it. She tried it on, and it fit perfectly! On Halloween everybody loved her outfit and they all wanted to be a princess next year.

Halloween Poem

By Parker Healey

Shoulder shivering, such a fright!
Especially when you go out in the night!
Candy you shove into your face,
Then tummy aches will change your pace!
Halloween is full of fun.
When you trick-or-treat with everyone

Peter, Autumn, and Pumpkin

By Baba Fabrikant

Hi, my name is Peter, and my favorite season is Fall. I love to watch the colorful leaves change. I have a cat named Autumn. My favorite Fall was when we got an orange cat. While we were driving, we decided to name her Pumpkin, because we all like Fall and she was wonderful. We carved our pumpkins to look just like Autumn and Pumpkin! It was not the best, but I loved it. For Halloween we went trick-or-treating together. I was a ghost; Autumn was a pumpkin; and Pumpkin dressed as hay in our wooden wagon. Pumpkin, Autumn, and I all rode in the wagon. We wanted to do something special for Pumpkin's first Halloween with us. Pumpkin and Autumn are getting along really well. Because of their costumes, I got a bunch of candy!

Mr. Frog's Candy Bar

By Noelle Lynch

Mr. Frog was so happy that it was Halloween. He could not wait to go trick-or-treating so he could get a huge candy bar. Mr. Frog was going to be a puppy for Halloween because his favorite animal was a puppy. Mr. Frog also thought other people would think that a puppy was cute. When it was finally time to go trick-or-treating, Mr. Frog ran out the door to get some candy. He went to 20 houses and got a lot of candy. When it was dark, Mr. Frog went back home to count his candy and guess what he found in his bag.... a huge candy Bar! Mr. Frog was so happy that when he went to bed he dreamt of chocolate.
